UNITING CHURCH

A people awakened

by the spirit, moving in our communities,

and cultivating hope

transforming futures

The Story...

The northern suburbs of Adelaide were established with a dream. A satellite city that would welcome those new to South Australia, with housing and a job, that would be the start for many of a new life.

Now, almost 50 years later, Playford is the fastest growing region in the state. Yet, this promise of a future has for many become more of a battle. Pressures on the family through high unemployment rates, social disadvantage, and isolation leave this generation struggling to cope, not so much hopeless, but hope void.

In an area where many believe that things can't change, the Uniting Church has chosen not only to stay, but to build.

Inspired by the good news of Jesus Christ, Playford Uniting Church shares a grand vision of a transformed community. Through the generosity of the Uniting Church in South Australia, a new and thriving community of faith, hope and life will be established, expressing the love of God seven days a week, right in the heart of Playford.

It is time to dream again.

Imagine...

- A place where Saturday is as busy as Sunday
- Discovering you didn't have to raise your family on your own
- A brand new venue for your organisation to retreat to
- Students enjoying a healthy breakfast on the way to school, and being supported with study on their way home
- Drinking a coffee you learn to make yourself
- A community garden in an area where house blocks are small
- A place where young families discover community and hope
- A story the community doesn't just hear, but is a part of
- A church who knows the vitality in partnering with others
